Course Description

This course aims to stimulate students' thinking around the complex notion of 'identity', introducing poststructuralist and discourse analytic approaches. The language of individuals and/or institutions will be analysed in depth, with reference to critical theories of society, ideology and language. The course also aims to raise awareness of how language is used to create and maintain power through the production and reproduction of narratives of identity. Case studies will be presented, with a view to deconstructionist analysis of the role of language in producing and reproducing ostensibly stable 'identities' such as masculine/feminine, Western/Asian and straight/queer. The course also investigates the role of language in how humans perform other types of social belonging and difference such as ethnicity and social class.

Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs)

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

1. Summarise key concepts in the field of language and identity
2. Explain how diverse senses of belonging and difference relate to individual and institutional practices
3. Reflect on their own beliefs about identity, and on implications for social justice
4. Critique relevant approaches to the analysis of identity, including the main case study of gender and sexual identity.
5. Create, confidently and critically, academic arguments within the field of language & identity

Course structure:

- One 2-hour lecture per week (taught by lecturer or guest lecturer)
- 1-hour seminar at various points during course (facilitated by TA)

This course will be assessed using criterion-referencing and grades will not be assigned using a curve. Detailed rubrics for each assignment are provided below, outlining the criteria used for evaluation.

Assessments:

Assessment Task	Contribution to Overall Course grade (%)	Due date
Quiz 1	15%	After around 1/3 of content taught
Quiz 2	15%	After around 2/3 of content taught
Quiz 3	15%	After all content taught
Final examination	55%	Central university exam period

Assessment marks for individual assessed tasks will be released within two weeks of the assessment date.

Mapping of Course ILOs to Assessment Tasks

Assessed Task	Mapped ILOs	Explanation
Quiz 1, 2 & 3	ILO1, ILO2	These short multiple-choice quizzes, administered on paper in class, will assess students' understanding of concepts from the course and their ability to evaluate their applications and implications.
Exam	ILO 1, ILO 2, ILO 3, ILO 4, ILO 5	Students will write a written response to a task under timed conditions dealing with selected topics related to the issues and debates covered on the course. This will assess students' ability to demonstrate higher-order thinking skills of analysis and evaluation. THIS TASK IS IN STANDARD ESSAY EXAM FORMAT. STUDENTS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR APPROPRIATE PREPARATION FOR THIS FORMAT OR SHOULD BE PREPARED NOT TO SCORE AS HIGHLY AS THEY DO IN THE QUIZZES.
