II. Course Description

This course is designed to train students with the skills of academic research in the field of humanities in general, but with special reference to anthropology, arts, history, linguistics, literature, and philosophy of China, in particular. The course will pay attention to the following few key questions:

1) What constitute data and source materials?
2) How and where to collect them?
3) How data and source materials are processed and analysed?
4) What research questions are asked?
5) What conceptual and theoretical approaches are applied?

By focusing on the common human experiences of love, hatred, life and death, and how they are studied in each discipline, students will be guided to compare the distinctive approaches to humanities in China Studies.

Three modules, Anthropology, Linguistics and Literature, will be covered in this course this semester.

III. Intended Learning Outcomes

On completion of this course, students should be able to

- Comprehend the basic research methods of particular disciplines in Humanities;
- Understand human endeavours and appreciate their creative expressions through the different approaches to Humanities in China studies;
- Develop cultural sensitivity toward human experiences and conditions;
- Write a research proposal with a basic framework related to research methods

IV. Course Assessment & Requirements

- Module assessments (30 marks x 3) 90 marks
- Attendance 10 marks
- Total: 100 marks

Each module has its own assessments. Please follow the instructors’ explanation for your preparation.

Attendance policy

You should regularly attend class and actively participate in class discussions.

(a) 0.5 mark will be deducted for one absence starting from the third absence after the add/drop period. Noted that being late or leaving early (e.g., longer than 15 mins) without permission will also result in a mark deduction.

(b) If you cannot attend class for valid reasons, you need to get advance permission (that is, before class) from instructors to waive absences. Explanation and proof documents (e.g., medical certificates, interview notification letters, etc.) are required for permission.

(c) According to the university policy, RVC recordings will be released only to students in need. Students should not expect to get “attendance” credit by viewing recordings.
(d) During the class, the use of electronics (e.g., laptop) is allowed exclusively for notetaking. Food is not recommended in class.

Assignment policy
As a general rule, NO late submission will be accepted for credits unless:
(a) You got advance permission (before the due) from instructors.
(b) You could not submit the assignment on the day the assignment is due because of a serious illness or emergency. You need to contact instructors with a written explanation of the situation and provide proof (e.g., medical certificates).
(c) We go with “Restrict ways of using generative AI tools for assessment”. For instance, you can use generative AI tools (e.g., chatGPT) for assisting your understanding of materials. However, you are prohibited from using the GenAI tools to produce any content related to essay assessments (e.g., article summary).
